KAVERI RIVER FRONT

A premium Kaveri riverfront farm community by Vanatvam

Where the river becomes part of everyday life

Nestled along the sacred Kaveri river in Dhanagere, Kollegala Taluk, Eeshavana is envisioned as a nature-first community where architecture listens to the land, landscapes remain alive, and every home enjoys the calm rhythm of rural Karnataka.

Inspired by the philosophy of living with nature, Eeshavana brings together river, trees, open skies, and thoughtfully designed community spaces. The architectural vision emphasizes organic forms, natural materials, native vegetation, and experiences that deepen one's connection with the land and water.

Eeshavana | Vanatvam

An invitation to rediscover nature, community, and timeless living beside the Kaveri.

The Spirit of the Kaveri

The Kaveri is more than a river. It is part of the cultural, ecological, and historical identity of Karnataka.

At Eeshavana, the river is not a distant view—it is a living presence. Its changing reflections, cool breeze, birdsong, and seasonal moods become part of everyday life.

Beyond the river stretch coconut groves, native vegetation, and fertile agricultural landscapes that give this place its unmistakable rural character.

Eeshavana has been conceived to preserve and enhance this natural setting rather than compete with it.

A Lifestyle Designed Around Nature

Imagine mornings that begin with mist rising over the river, afternoons shaded by nature trees, and evenings spent in conversation beside the water. The community is designed to encourage:

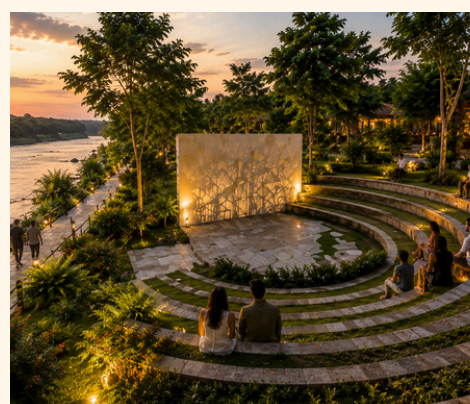

-  Quiet riverside contemplation
-  Nature walks and birdwatching
-  Shared gatherings under the trees
-  Outdoor wellness and meditation
-  Meaningful connections with like-minded families

Why Eeshavana Feels Different

Instead of imposing rigid urban development, the vision embraces:

- Fluid, nature-inspired planning
- Organic landscapes instead of manicured gardens
- Native and locally appropriate vegetation
- Spaces that age gracefully with the land

This is not simply a plotted development. It is a carefully curated riverfront experience where architecture, landscape, and community come together in quiet harmony.

People do not merely stay beside nature.
They live with nature.

Thoughtfully Planned Riverfront Community

Eeshavana has been carefully planned to balance private ownership, community interaction, and ecological sensitivity.

Wide internal roads, generous plot dimensions, landscaped open spaces, and riverside buffers ensure that the development feels spacious, green, and intimate.

Designed for Space, Privacy & Belonging

With only 20 large-format plots, Eeshavana offers a rare sense of privacy and exclusivity. Every plot is conceived as a personal retreat within a larger living landscape, allowing owners to create farm homes, wellness retreats, or multi-generational nature residences while remaining connected to a thoughtfully designed community.

Master plan and measurements are conceptual planning references and may be refined during detailed development.

Own a Legacy Beside the Kaveri

Some properties offer land.
Eeshavana offers a relationship with a river.

This is a place where mature trees, fertile landscapes, flowing water, breeze, shade, and changing light already exist. The true value of Eeshavana lies not only in its location, but in the experience it preserves for generations to come.
